Partnership Update

The partnership has been keeping our program in the forefront through continuous Letters to the Editors in our local newspapers. Many of you have taken the role to assist in writing these letters, and it is greatly appreciated. These letters and other information about the program are being sent to our legislators as well.

The partnership website is now up and running... www.cspfulmont.com. Jennifer Knapp, our website designer, did a great job at getting in all the information necessary that the public would need to access our services. If you see something that should be changed or added, please feel free to contact me.

Clients will be able to contact us through the website with their request for specific services or needs.

Community Partner Spotlight

The Cancer Services Program of Fulton and Montgomery Counties has worked with Partnership member, Doug Hill, Director of Sales at the Leader-Herald newspaper. Doug has been a huge supporter of our program initiatives, and has created many unique ideas to further our program goals. The Leader-Herald has supported our program through publishing the many Letters to the Editors we send in on a monthly basis.

Recently, the Partnership worked with Doug to create door knob hangers complimenting the ASK ME campaign. The hangers have information in English on one side and Spanish on the other. The door knob hangers will be placed at homes in Fulton and Montgomery Counties.

The Cancer Services Program thanks Doug and the Leader-Herald for their support and commitment to the members of our communities!
